Association of Essex Philatelic Societies

Terms & Conditions

The Association of Essex Philatelic Societies (AEPS) “Stamp Essex” website primary function is to promote philately in Essex and on the boundaries of Essex in East London, South East Hertfordshire or Southern Suffolk.

Whilst the AEPS makes every effort to ensure that our website contains the most up to date information regarding local stamp fairs, auctions and local philatelic society meetings including, details of their location and meeting times. The association does not accept any responsibility for errors or omissions on the “Stamp Essex” website.

By accessing this website you agree that the AEPS will not be liable for any direct, indirect or consequential loss arising from the use of the information and other material contained in this web site. Accessing, downloading and/or use of this website by any person is entirely at the risk of such person.

If you intend to visit one of our member societies or a local stamp fair, it is advisable that you contact the society or promoter before travelling to confirm all the relevant details such as start time, location and address.

The “Stamp Essex” website has a number of external links to other philatelic organisations and limited company’s which may be of interest to individuals. The inclusion of any link does not imply any endorsement by the AEPS of the linked web site. Further, since the AEPS has no control over the content of any site to which this website is linked, the AEPS shall not be liable in respect of any matter arising out of your use of such linked sites.

The AEPS does not value stamps or collections for insurance or probate services or recommend individual companies or organisations.

The copyright in the material appearing on this website and any logos, and brands contained in that material belong to the AEPS or its licensors. Audio and visual material, logos and brands must not be reproduced without the consent of the association.

The exclusions and limitations above apply to the extent permitted by law, which shall be determined under English law.